All entries start with ticker entry. I would love for us to be able to "prompt" tickers. At first, the easiest way to do this will be alphabetically, but eventually, I would prefer us to prompt based on mcap or popularity, so an "a" typed into the ticker box will return a list of prompts for the largest market cap companies with "a" at the beginning, and then within, their ticker/name.

These are the four trade types that exist in our system. At first, we don't need any prompts here.

For size it would be nice to auto prompt the min/max sizes, which can be done at any given time. Nate, you and I have already talked a bit about this, we'll need to flesh out how we determine min/max.

I am buying this because I am a poser without original ideas and I think the market opportunity for iCrap is boundless. I also have a hipster hairbun.
